“ Tristin I have known you for two years and it wasn't till this passed year that I had gotten so close to you. I remember how you use to sit on my lap when I was watching TV and start laughing just to get me to stop watching tv and play with you. I remember playing peek a boo with you and you just rolling so hard with laughter. My husband, kids, and myself loved you very much. RIP and fly high buddy.

“ I will never forget tristin's smile and giggle. The day we sat at the table and he kept saying with his words I am Batman and giggling. I really tried to get him to say I am Superman and he was not having it he was Batman. We all laughed together.
