“ Eric you were always an amazing friend to me. Always made me laugh and you were always there for me even if it was just through phone calls and messages. You were the only person that stayed in my life after i had kids and moved away and we had a bond that could never be broken. Im so sorry i wasn't able to help you and save you like you did for me in the past. I wish me telling you how much you are loved and how important your life is to so many people everytime we talked would've helped but there must of been something deeper that you didn't want to talk about. You are and will always be my best friend. We had so many memories in school but I remember when you accidently broke my wrist at PE and it broke you to pieces because you would never hurt me and i knew that, we became even better friends after that and you were always the person to make sure i never looked down on myself. I will never stop missing you, Fly high until I see you again. I love you Buddy

“ Dear Eric,
You were such a beautiful person. I met you at work and you would call me "mama Crow". You always made everyone laugh... I'll never forget how funny you were but I also will never forget when you would sit and listen to me while I was having a bad day... You would listen to me when I talked about my anxiety and my depression. You always made me feel like I was never alone in my deepest moments... I really wished we would of talked about yours... Eric... I'm so sorry. I didn't know you were so sad. I hope you're resting easy... I miss you .. we all do.
