“ I have two memories that popped in my mind. When Irene made grandma's chicken and noodles and one year put it in a bag and I brought it home on the plane to Florida. And when my mom died Megan fell in love with one of the kittens that were out in the shed and Irene pounded on the sides and the mothers ran out and Megan picked one out and we couldn't take it on the plane so Matthew put it in one of his pockets and he got through because it was easier than to get by with that. I stayed behind when the kids went home to go to school and I stayed with my dad for a week. Irene had given Megan two little plastic containers and she took yarn and sewed them together for a little cage and she named her after my Dad's pet name for my mom, Hazel. We eventually had to give her to my friend because Matthew and I were allergic to her. And I had to feed her with her little bottle every day and every time I went to my friend's, even if it had been a long time she always remembered me. She lived a very good life for 12 years and that was all because of the help of Irene. You're at peace now. And my condolences to everyone.
