

J. Floyd Cummins

September 26, 1920 - June 9, 2010

J. Floyd Cummins, 89, of Roodhouse, passed away Wednesday, June 9, 2010 at Boyd Memorial Hospital in Carrollton. He was born east of Roodhouse on September 26, 1920, the son of Raymond and Nellie Mae Dyer Cummins.

Floyd lived his entire life in Greene County where he farmed; raising grain, hogs and cattle. After his retirement in 1985, he taught himself how to do woodworking. He loved the process of creating something out of a plain chunk of wood and made many beautiful, detailed pieces. He was a member of the First Baptist Church in Roodhouse.

On March 9, 1944 he married the former Mildred Hoots in Roodhouse. She survives in Roodhouse. He is also survived by a daughter, Cindy Cummins (husband John Clark) of Glencoe, IL; a son, Jim (wife Marlene) Cummins and two grandchildren, Katy, 9, and Jimmy, 7, Cummins along with a step-grandson, Chris LaBonte, all of Waverly.

Also surviving are siblings Junior, (wife Betty) of Mena AR; Alice, (husband Roscoe Orton) of Washington, IL; Norma Jean O'Brien of Jacksonville, IL; and Helen Reid of Murrayville, IL, along with many nieces, nephews and extended family. Preceding him in death were his parents; brothers Orval, Ray and Kenneth; sisters Violet Phillips, Lorene Edwards, Mildred Hoots and two brothers in infancy.

Visitation will be from 4-8 p.m. Friday at Mackey-Daws Funeral Home in Roodhouse. Funeral services will be at 11 a.m. at the First Baptist Church in Roodhouse, with burial at White Hall Cemetery. Memorials may be made to Roodhouse First Baptist Church or Respite Care Program of the Greene County Health Dept.
