“ Jimmy was one of the happiest man I think I ever met. He always brought laughter and craziness into every room he walked in. I'm blessed that I got to really know him a few years ago. He was a good man and I'm really sad that Naomi and Jimmy weren't able to have the life they should have been able to have together. 5 they got to be together but they deserved 50 yes. I'm sorry for his mother Donna as well. May you RIP my friend, you left a mark on everyone's life you ever touched.
