“ My heart was sad hearing of MIke's passing. We were close friends for years. We often called him MIke Rockford for the firebird he had just like in the TV show. We worked together at Capitol and when i left there to pursure a career on the river boats, it seemed only fitting for Mike to move in my house as a roommate. We had many good times on Grove St. The old house had steep stairs going up to the 2nd. story where the only bathroom was. One nite after downing a few, Mike was going up the stairs and near the top, he leaned back and fell. Bounced all the way down on his back. Fearing the worse, we ran to his aid. He got up shook his head and announced good thing he didn't spill his beer. The hide scraped from his back didn't bother him. He scratched his head and said that was the first time he ever fell going up stairs. That's how Mike was. Looking at the best in situations. I will miss, my good friend. Rest easy Mike.
